

STILL NO JAP REPLY, WHITE HOUSE REPORTS

The War Today..

Jap Blows Resumed

JAPAN'S delay in replying to the terms of capitulation has been more a matter of exasperation than anxiety for the Allies.

When the Tokyo government last Friday offered surrender on his throne, the country already was beaten to its knees and it remained only for the Allies to administer the coup de grace. This meant that the Mikado's ministers had tossed the towel into the ring, thus admitting defeat.

So even if by some chance the war-lords decided to continue the hopeless struggle, it was clear that the mighty Allied war machine would crush Japan soon—and it would mean a terrible death for the barbaric aggressors of the Pacific.

As a gesture of mercy we suspended further operations with the atomic bomb pending the exchange of messages regarding surrender. And who of the militarists, either of Japan or of Germany, would have done as much, had they been on the winning side?

However, the Allies weren't foolish enough to stay their hands with other operations. There was no intention of giving the enemy a respite to pull himself together for another stand. Admiral (Bill) Halsey's huge Allied carrier fleet did withhold its mighty striking power during the night to give the Japs a chance to get their answer to the Allied capitals, but this morning at the break of dawn he launched an all-out attack against the Tokyo area. Other parts of the Japanese home islands came under attack at the same time.

Meantime the rampaging Russians continued to tear into Manchuria, and at the same time, according to the Tokyo radio, launched a new offensive from outer Mongolia, across inner Mongolia, toward the Yellow Sea south of Manchuria. Please take a look at your maps and see what this remarkable military operation would mean—if it is continued.

Should the Red army drive through to the Yellow Sea it would sever communications between the Japanese armies in Manchuria and those in northern China. This would be particularly disastrous for the Japs in China proper, if the war should continue, because Manchuria is the main manufacturing center and supply base for all that area.

The Japanese have their crack Kwantung army of some 750,000 men in Manchuria, and about 650,000 more troops in the northern China proper. Ultimately, of course, both these great forces will be prisoners of war, and one wonders whether they will be put to work to repair devastation in China, just as German prisoners are to be employed in Germany.

HALSEY MEN DROP BOMBS ON YOKOHAMA

U. S. Third Fleet Watches For Jap Tricks; One Ship Damaged

By MORRIS LANDSBERG

GUAM, Aug. 13.—Admiral Halsey's powerful Third fleet guarded against a possible banzai attack by the Japanese air force today as his carrier planes blasted the Yokohama docks and submarine pens after being turned back by heavy weather from the Tokyo area.

Associated Press War Correspondent Richard K. O'Malley with the fleet reported six enemy planes attempting sneak attacks, were shot down by carrier planes.

A Tokyo broadcast, recorded by the FCC, admitted "some damage" was caused by 80 carrier-based planes attacking the Kanto district of east central Honshu. The attack, the Japanese said, lasted 12 hours and 17 planes were shot down and 25 damaged.

Enemy Scouts In Air Possibility of a Japanese aerial banzai assault against the fleet was voiced by some officers. O'Malley said, because of persistent attempts by reconnaissance planes to locate the American force.

Turned back by heavy weather at Tokyo the carrier planes picked cargoes of opportunity. The Yokohama docks and submarines in pens at Shimoda to the south along Sagami bay, were hit hard.

Numerous merchant vessels and huggers were attacked. Returning fliers said the only two airfields in land on Honshu not shrouded by fog were Kiryu and Nagano. These were worked over with early estimates listing scores of planes destroyed or damaged on the ground.

Returning pilots said the enemy offered no airborne opposition over the targets and one group flew over three fields without drawing anti-aircraft fire.

Far East air forces squadrons also continued their daily assaults on Japan. No details were given.

Radioed dispatches from Halsey's flagship said more than 1,000 British and American pilots were participating, and despite rough, rainy weather the Tokyo radio counted 800 sorties by the slashing, blasting bombers and fighters before 10 a. m. Tokyo time. The broadcast said eight were shot down and 16 damaged.

A Japanese torpedo plane was shot down near the vast fleet early this morning, and Admiral Nimitz announced another had torpedoed and damaged a "major war vessel" at Okinawa Sunday night.

Halsey's pilots Thursday and Friday had destroyed or damaged 711 enemy planes and 94 surface craft. In addition to their July toll of more than 1,000 vessels and nearly 1,300 aircraft destroyed or damaged.

In addition to the 51 craft sunk or damaged in foraging searches that continued through Sunday.

Admiral Nimitz said extent of damage to the "major war vessel" torpedoed by an unscheduled Japanese plane at Okinawa Sunday night was not yet determined. The ship presumably was a battleship or aircraft carrier, a unit of Vice Adm. Jesse Oldendorf's naval forces in the Ryukyus.

John T. Ketchum, water tender third class, USNR, of Lisbon, was killed, the destroyer USS Drexler was sunk in a vicious 90-second attack by three Japanese suicide bombers off Okinawa May 28, it was disclosed today by the Navy.

Already damaged by the first of the Kamikaze trio, the Drexler rolled over on her starboard side and sank within 40 seconds after the last suicide found his mark. Casualties totaled 210, including 158 dead and 52 wounded. War-time complement of the Drexler was approximately 350 officers and men.

Cdr. Ronald Lee Wilson, Marion, Ill., skipper of the destroyer, himself wounded in the attack, described as "fantastic" the action of the last suicide pilot, who was forced to make two passes at the crippled, dead-in-the-water Drexler before she was sent to the bottom.

Truman Calls Agency Officials For Reconversion Conference

LABOR AND PRICE HEADS MAP PLANS

Await White House Signal For Start of Civilian Goods Output

BY MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With the end of the war in sight, President Truman turned attention today to the nation's top peacetime problem—reconversion.

In a move which appeared in the direction of consolidating post-war plans, especially those pertaining to employment and labor, the President called into conference today Labor Secretary Schweitzer, Economic Stabilizer William H. Davis, War Labor Board Chairman George W. Taylor and Price Administrator Chester Bowles.

Their emergency plans ready, government agencies awaited the house signal to start the American economy toward a goal of unprecedented civilian production.

The signal, due when Japan quits, also will serve to unveil programs for putting millions of released war workers in peacetime jobs as rapidly as possible and for gradual lifting of rationing and other wartime restrictions.

Expected quickly, too, are plans that may provide for easing of stringent wage controls, and outline the scope of price controls in the immediate postwar period.

The Outlook At Present In the meantime, this is the homefront outlook as the war appears to be nearing the end:

Rationing—elimination of gasoline, fuel oil and tire programs within a few days to six weeks after V-J day; gasoline may be released within a week. Shoe rationing is due to go in two or three months. Food, especially meat and sugar, will stay under controls for some time because of continuing military requirements.

Consumer goods—volume production before the end of the year, particularly of such small items as toasters, irons and other home appliances.

REV. MOSHER HEADS CHURCH DISTRICT

Rev. Robert E. Mosher, pastor of the First Friends church, was elected superintendent of Damascus Quarterly meeting, which includes nine Friends churches, at the Saturday session in the local church. He succeeds Rev. Albert J. Fryhoff of Alliance.

Ralph S. Coppock, who was re-elected presiding clerk, has an unusual attendance record in that he has only missed one session in 35 years. He is beginning his 33rd year as clerk. Mrs. Carl Hobson of Damascus is recording clerk and Rev. Roger Wood of Sandy's Crossing is reading clerk.

Other officers are: Superintendent of Bible schools, Mrs. R. S. Coppock of Alliance; Missions, Rev. Myrtle A. Hadley of Deerfield; Temperance, Miss Gladys Hicks of Beloit; Peace, A. L. Membership Gains These churches have a total membership of 1,461 and all but one church showed a gain in membership for the past year. Their missionary offering for the fiscal year was more than $12,000. The Salem church led in the amount of missionary money given the past quarter.

Delegates from the local church to Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends at Damascus, Aug. 21-26, are: Mrs. Alice Zeller, Mrs. Raymond Roher, Mrs. Dessie Scullion and Mrs. Henry Wolfgang.

Ushers from the Salem church for the Yearly meeting are: L. E. Allen, Harry Mitchell, Kenneth Howells, Edwin Mosher and Homer Elyson.

WRIGHT FILE CO. GIVEN 'E' AWARD

LISBON, Aug. 13.—The Wright File Co. was advised Saturday in a letter from Robert P. Patterson, under secretary of war, that it will receive the Army-Navy "E" award for achievement in production of war equipment.

The award is a flag to be flown on top of the company's plant and a lapel pin for each employee. Arrangements for the ceremonies and presentation have not been completed.

The order halts work on the books pending outcome of peace negotiations. If Japan quits the stop order will become permanent.

The action was taken, it was explained, because there are sufficient stamps in books now in use to carry through to about the first of the year. In the case of gasoline, rationing is expected to end within a week or two after V-J day. The other programs are expected to continue longer.

An OPA spokesman said that of 150,000,000 planned, only "a very few copies" of ration book five have been printed.

Actual printing of 37,000,000 gasoline books has not begun, but designs and engravings have been completed.

Both books had been set up to last from 10 to 15 months.

RADIO REPORT ON SURRENDER PROVES FALSE

United Press Investigates Origin of 'Flash' That Stirred Nation

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Premature victory celebrations, springing from radio broadcast of an erroneous United Press news flash that Japan had accepted Allied surrender terms, swept across the United States and Canada last night and awoke jubilant echoes in Central America and faraway Sydney, Australia.

The Canadian celebration was intensified by premature release of a recorded "victory" broadcast by Prime Minister Mackenzie King from Ottawa.

The United Press association (United Press) said the flash moved over one of its wires at 9:34 p. m. (EWT). The flash was ordered withheld from publication at 9:36 p. m. and "killed" at 9:40 p. m.

The U.P. described the flash as "of mysterious origin" and said that while it moved under a Washington deadline, it "was not transmitted by the Washington bureau of the United Press."

The U.P. told its subscribers the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Federal Communications commission had been asked to ascertain who had "cut in on the U.P.'s wire to disseminate false information."

Radio Spreads Report Although the long-awaited report of the war's end was killed quickly by U.P. and the major radio networks which had cut into their regular programs to carry it, the message: "Flash—Washington—Japan accepts surrender terms of Allies," inaugurated hilarious celebrations that lasted for an hour or more in some cities.

A White House denial that a Japanese surrender had been received, following the U.P.'s kill by about an hour, finally dimmed the enthusiasm of victory-greeters.

In the short interval between the false flash and its final denial, bedlam had its hey-day. The high squeal and baritone roar of ship whistles and horns sent up thunderous fanfares at New York City's East river, and in the harbors of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Me., Honolulu and San Diego.

Big, good-humored crowds gathered in the city's big courtyard at Philadelphia, at Portland, Ore., Baltimore, Boston and other cities. In Washington, D. C., a cheering throng surged around the White House, but dispersed quietly upon denial of the surrender report.

Hugh Baillie, United Press president, offered $5,000 reward for information leading to the identification and conviction of the person who transmitted the false flash.

Prizes Awarded Prizes for the week's activities at the Youth center were awarded to the following:

Enemy Claims Allied Terms Just Received

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—American bombers hammered at Tokyo's front door today while the Japanese dabbled about a decision whether to surrender now on Allied terms or continue a suicidal war.

The White House announced no reply had been received at 10:45 a. m. today to Saturday's four-power dictate that Japan could keep an Emperor who would take his orders from the victors' supreme commander.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference "it is safe to say the war is going on" while negotiations continue.

No time limit was set by the Allies for a Japanese response, Ross said. Nor did he know, he asserted, whether there might be another ultimatum.

A Tokyo radio broadcast said the formal reply to Japan's conditional surrender offer of Friday was not received until today.

Tokyo's attitude remains completely obscure. If Premier Suzuki's war cabinet is split in a life-and-death debate, as some authorities suspect, the enemy radio has given no hint.

At both the White House and State department there was obvious disappointment the Japanese had not responded yesterday with a statement accepting Saturday's note clarifying the post-surrender status of the Emperor.

President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes were on the job early and late, and an air of tense expectancy was reflected by their associates. The White House perfected plans for the actual signing of surrender terms.

Ross, presidential secretary, said the arrangements might take two or three days after the enemy accepts. But if a Japanese agreement to surrender is forthcoming promptly, V-J day still might be proclaimed in mid-week.

Ross said the President would not make the proclamation until after the signing, however. Then, he added, the chief executive will address the nation immediately by radio.

This information wound up a hectic Sunday during which top officials stuck close to their desks or telephones.

Emperor Hirohito received Japanese Foreign Minister Togo at the Imperial palace this morning, another enemy broadcast said, but no details as to its purpose were given.

Still another broadcast indicated the Japanese were suffering invasion jitters. Domei, Japanese news agency, quoted "Military observers" as viewing renewed American carrier plane attacks and fleet operations off the coast as presaging a possible enemy landing.

Ross told his news conference at the White House:

"I'm sorry. I have only the negative report to make that no word has been received from Japan. It was carried by the Tokyo radio that the Allied reply had only been delivered today, Monday. If that is true, Japan has had our terms only a little over 12 hours. Perhaps that accounts for the delay."

"Might there be another atomic bomb," he was asked.

"I do not know," Ross replied. "If I did I wouldn't say."

His remark on continuation of the war was in reply to an inquiry whether it was safe to assume "there had been no interruption or letup in the war during the negotiations."

Carrier planes of Task Force 38 hammered today at Japanese coastal targets, including the docks of Yokohama, Tokyo's chief port.

Await "Yes" or "No" Answer Prolonged delay on the part of Tokyo appears certain to bring a resumption of American atomic bomb attacks. Except for such attacks, the fighting in Pacific and Asia continues full scale.

There seems to be no disposition among officials here to engage in further exchanges regarding the meaning of unconditional surrender. What is wanted now is a "yes" or "no" reply.

Probe Woman's Death CHARDON, Aug. 13.—Geauga County Coroner Ralph C. Pease announced an inquest into the fatal shooting of Mrs. Gertrude Davis, 32, will be held today. Mrs. Davis was found shot through the heart on a bed in her home in neighboring South Russell village Saturday.

Signals Over, Mr. Foster

There are a number of angles about Russia's declaration of war that are worth pondering, and we hope the ludicrous plight of William Z. Foster will not be overlooked by the big league ponderers.

Mr. Foster has been substituted for Earl Browder, formerly the leadoff man for the American Reds in the International Revolution League. Mr. Browder was benched for light hitting. As soon as the United States had performed its function in the opening game of World War II, which was to help dispose of Germany, Mr. Browder was accused of Americanism and Mr. Foster was called in to pinch-hit.

In short, his job was to get on with the revolution and hasten the coming of communism, a project that had been held up out of deference to the fact the United States and Russia, being allies, should not be ideological competitors during the war. The revolution, it seemed, could wait. But now that the United States and Russia are fighting a common enemy again, will Mr. Foster be benched and that zealous advocate of 50 per cent Americanism, Mr. Browder, be put back in the game?

Reconversion Needs Converting

Probably the most immediately useful thing that could be done about reconversion is to convert the name. Reconversion doesn't tell the story.

Vastly more is entailed than the mechanics of changing back to something that existed before. Time has not stood still since the United States acted on its pledge to become the arsenal of democracy. Almost nothing has been immune to violent change.

It is not reconversion that is needed but modernization—and there is a vast difference. The automobile manufacturers are not going to resume production of models in existence five years ago, for instance. They are going to modernize their plants and their methods to produce a modern model different in appearance, performance and price. In some lines, manufacturers will be switching products. No doubt there are some manufacturers planning to wipe the slate clean and start over. It is clearly something more complicated than the resumption of familiar operations in familiar fields.

There is a helpful comparison implicit in the circumstances of wartime industrial activity—a reminder of the time that may be involved in the postwar modernization of industry. It required the United States from early in 1940, when war production for Britain began, to the summer of 1944 to reach the climax of conversion from peace production. During 1942 and 1943, it was striving to reach that climax under the spur of emergency. There was no limits on public spending. All obstacles to enterprise were removed. Yet, four years were required to reach maximum output and employment.

Modernization of the national industrial organization for postwar years cannot be done by magic. Yet, there is a distinct possibility that when modernization takes time the critics of private enterprise may swarm down on it with snarling accusations of inadequacy. It is time to remember the sign that war production experts sometimes pointed to when government officials grew impatient over delays—the one that said: "The difficult can be done right away, but the impossible takes a little longer."

No Sauce For the Gander

President William Green of the AFL is a veteran labor leader, but he seems to have the wrong conception of his important role in the creation of a peaceful industrial atmosphere after the war.

He has rejected the proposed Ball-Burton-Hatch industrial relations act, not reasonably and categorically, but in a single blast of general damnation. He has rejected the suggestion that labor and industry sit down with government to chart a course for preventing added difficulties in the difficult time of reconversion.

Mr. Green shudders at the thought of any government control of labor, though he can scarcely deny that his membership's employers, are held strictly accountable by the government for the general conduct of their business. What's sauce for the goose is not sauce for the gander, in Mr. Green's book of proverbs.

Rather, the AFL leader makes the brilliantly original proposal that industry and labor get together and iron things out. It is apparent that Mr. Green would approach such a get-together with his same set of implacable ideas, and that this meeting would fail as most of the others have.

Labor Secretary Schwelmbach's statement that the public interest should take precedence over either industry's or labor's self-interest doesn't seem to have got across to Mr. Green as yet, even though it might seem obvious that what is best for the public interest will be the best for labor's self-interest in the end.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, August 14.

A FAIRLY active day is predicted judging by the dominant lunar aspects. However, there may not be a great deal accomplished nor any degree of happiness or satisfaction, since there is tendency to be suspicious, doubtful, jealous, proud or boastful. Unless such inharmonious proclivities be wisely handled, with proper analysis and reasonable restraint, much misery and defeat may follow. The menace is especially likely to be active in connection with public, community or fraternal bodies. Tact and honest efforts may pay in business, communications, agencies and in personal affairs.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a fairly successful and happy year if they will curb certain tendencies toward jealousy, envy, pride and suspicion, particularly in relation to public or community affairs. A straightforward attitude with a keen analysis of dubious situations, may result in benefit and harmonious adjustment of troublesome circumstances. Travel, change, dealings with agents, making new contracts, may be advantageous if managed with reason and well thought out strategies. Finesse and not friction are recommended.

A child born on this day will be clever and versatile, and should suppress tendencies toward jealousy, envy and suspicion.

Research For Life and Death

It cost $2,000,000,000 to produce the first atomic bomb. That is a lot of money. But the American taxpayers who are footing the bill will not begrudge the cost of a great scientific discovery which shortened the war and which may someday prove as constructive as it now is destructive.

It cost $4,000,000 for Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., and Charles F. Kettering to establish a research center at the Memorial Cancer Center in New York. And that is a lot of money for two men to give. But they did not begrudge it if it will help to wipe out a disease which, through the years, has killed far more people than the atomic bombs that were dropped on Japan.

Without unlimited money and unstinting employment of scientific minds the atom never would have been smashed. And without those two requisites cancer never will be controlled.

Fortunately there is a similarity between cancer research and the research which led to the atomic bomb. As Mr. Sloan and Mr. Kettering pointed out, the release of energy which explodes the bomb also may be utilized in the study of cancer and its treatment.

If the money spent on research for destruction can assist in eradicating one of mankind's most terrible diseases, then Americans can indeed feel that two billions have been well spent. But it will be only through more money and more research that the goal finally will be reached.

The best tips in connection with vacation are those you save by not taking one.

The leaves will soon begin to blush to think how green they've been all summer.

It isn't so bad for the Mr. to spend his vacation at home if the Mrs. doesn't plan all the things he's to do.

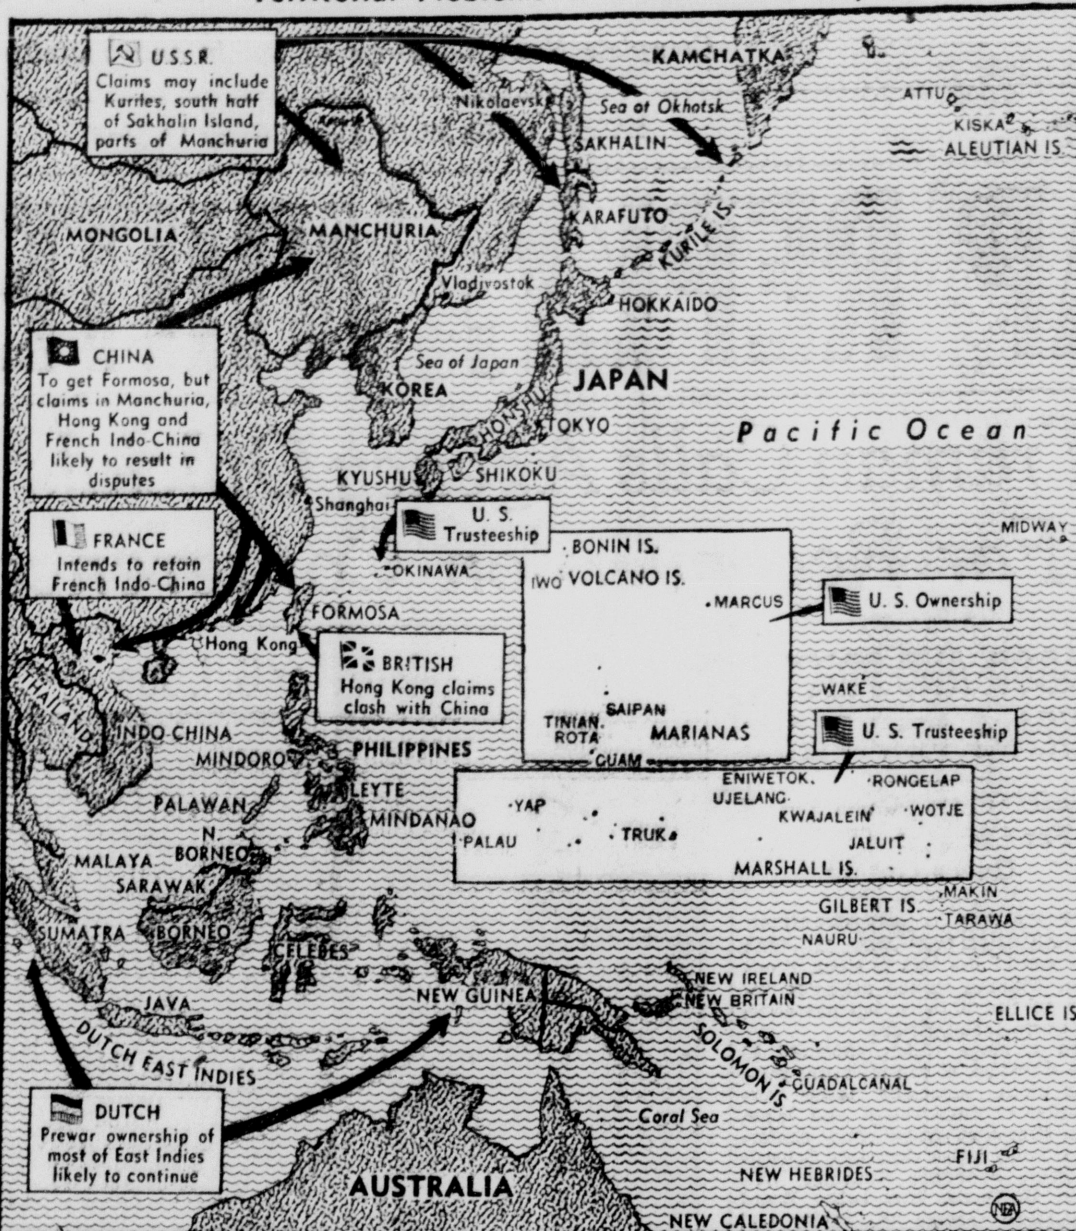

Ten bathing suits were found in the bottom of a park swimming pool in Topeka, Kan.—and that's the naked truth.

Territorial Problems Will Follow V-J Day

Some of the territorial problems likely to follow the defeat of Japan are indicated on the map above. Some, such as China's possession of Formosa and retention by the Dutch of sovereignty over most of the East Indies, doubtless will be settled without difficulty. Others, such as conflicting Chinese-Russian interests in Manchuria, those of China and Britain in Hong Kong, and China and France in French Indo-China, may prove extremely difficult. To be settled also will be the status of former Jap mandated islands, although the consensus is that the United States either will be owner or trustee of groups designated on the map.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Vitamins and Diet

BY HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.
VITAMINS are important in the maintenance of health and strength. Everyone is agreed on this point but there is some dispute as to what persons may need extra vitamins and how the vitamins should be administered. It is probably true that the greatest aid in providing a full vitamin intake is by means of an adequate diet. This is so for many reasons. First, we do not know any chemical diet that will give as good results as one made up of natural foods.

Hence, it is possible that there are many factors in the diet that are as yet undiscovered. Second, many of the vitamins available in concentrated form may be too expensive to provide in any way other than in food. Third, people often get tired of taking pills or become careless, but they must always continue to eat. On the other hand, if a severe vitamin deficiency results with definite symptoms, treatment with large doses of the necessary vitamin preparations is essential.

Proper Vitamin Usage

Vitamins are not a cure for all human ailments, but they do a great deal of good when they are required and are given in the proper amount. Vitamin deficiencies may arise for a number of reasons. First of all, the diet may be improper or inadequate. Second, vitamins taken into the stomach and bowel may not be absorbed into the body. Third, there may be an increased demand for vitamins, as may happen during pregnancy. And last, the vitamins may be eliminated before they have been absorbed from the intestine.

Diets may become improper for a number of reasons, for example, poverty, food fads, lack of knowledge or of interest, and old age.

Many vague or indefinite symptoms have been ascribed to vitamin deficiencies. These include weakness, tiredness, sleeplessness and irritability. When persons with such symptoms are given a reasonable dosage of vitamins for a short time and no improvement results, it is probable that the symptoms are due to some other cause than vitamin deficiency, and other methods of treatment must be employed.

Fewer Diseases

In addition to pregnancy, other conditions which may increase the need for vitamins are diseases accompanied by fever. It would appear to be good policy to administer vitamins before and after operations, when the food intake may be interfered with. There is also evidence that certain drugs may interfere with the action of the vitamins. Salicylates, it would appear may have some effect in causing excessive excretion of the vitamins. For best results, vitamins should be taken as the physician directs. He will be able to determine if an actual vitamin deficiency exists which vitamins are particularly needed, and the amounts required.

Dr. Bundesen will answer letters containing medical questions only through his column. Address your inquiries to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

It takes 71 railroad trains, each with a minimum of 20 cars, to move an Army division of about 15,000 men with their weapons and equipment. Since troops traveling by rail move about 250 miles a day, it would take almost 1500 cars 10 days to move the division across the United States.

Johns-Manville 'Wool' Is Correct Insulation

Every effort should be made by all of us to find ways to use less coal this winter. As government agencies have pointed out for several weeks we will have to do with 20 per cent less fuel.

This reduction can be made by many without reducing one degree the heat units in their homes if they will have Johns-Manville "Blown" Rock Wool insulation applied as recommended by the county representative, R. B. Finley of the Finley Music Co. on S. Broadway.

This type of home improvement can be financed through our local banks, arrangements can be made that are so liberal the savings in fuel bills alone will nearly cover the payment.

Mr. Finley will arrange to visit your home at your convenience and estimate the cost and arrange for the work to be done in time to save you the worry of getting along with a fifth less heat this winter.

End of War To Mean Nylon Hose Once Again

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. — Yes, girls it's true—the end of the war means nylon hose for you.

Virtually all nylon production now goes for military purposes—parachutes, tow lines for gliders, and countless other things.

But with the end of the war military demands for nylon will decline sharply, making the material available again for women's hoes.

Nylon production totaled about 8,000,000 pounds annually before the war. It is larger now but just how much is still a military secret.

In any event enough will become available for millions of pairs of hoes each year.

G.I. Telephones Won't Fit into this Postwar Picture

Rugged G. I. telephones are built especially for use under fire—not in homes. This is true, too, of all communications devices made for war. They must be constructed sturdily and simply for fast installation and maintenance under most difficult battle conditions.

This is why there will be no huge surplus of telephone equipment that can be converted to civilian use after the war. Military communications equipment just won't fit into the intricate pattern of our telephone system at home, where each additional piece of apparatus must dovetail with existing facilities.

For this reason, assembly lines now busily engaged in production of telephones, switchboards and other communications devices for war must be reconverted before full manufacture of civilian telephone equipment can start. This will involve extensive retooling and rearrangement of manufacturing facilities.

Plans, however, are ready for a fast changeover to civilian production as soon as reduction in war needs permits. Here in Ohio, our company is preparing to extend and improve telephone facilities in a two-year period to provide fast, dependable telephone service to everyone who wants it.

Tobin May Prove To Be Vital Cog In Detroit's Pennant Drive

Unwanted By National Loop, Jim Turns Back N.Y. Yankees

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Tobin, veteran hurler who traveled the waiver route from Boston to Detroit—switching from the National league to the American—may be a vital cog in the Tigers' bid for the junior major league pennant which they won in 1940 and nearly won last year.

Tobin, making his American league debut yesterday before 53,189 paid—the second largest Detroit crowd of the season—pitched and batted to triumph in one game of a twin Tiger defeat of the New York Yankees, 9-6 and 8-2.

Obtained only a week ago from the sixth place Boston Braves, Tobin not only confounded the Yanks through three scoreless frames of the 11-inning first game, but blasted a three-run homer that broke a 6-6 tie.

Hal Newhouse's six-hit effort in the finale brought the ace left-hander his 18th triumph of the year. Hank Greenberg starred at bat for the Bengals. His five hits, including a double and triple, accounted for six runs in the two games.

The Senators won the opener from the St. Louis Browns 9-3 to keep pace with the Tigers, but dropped back when the American league champions, behind Bob Muncrief, annexed the second contest, 4-1.

The Chicago Cubs stretched their first place National league lead to 6½ games via a double win over the lowly Phillies 4-3 and 12-6. Andy Pafko's two-run single in the first inning proved to be the payoff wallop in the curtain raiser, while Hank Wyse had an easy time of it registering his 18th triumph in the nightcap.

Cards Relatate
After losing second place to Brooklyn by virtue of the Dodgers' 7-3 opening game victory, the St. Louis Cardinals came back to win the second game 3-0 and regain their hold on the runners-up position.

Manager Mel Ott provided a one-man show at the Polo grounds, as he personally accounted for both the New York Giants' triumphs over the Cincinnati Reds, with game winning homers in each contest.

His opening game round tripper gave the Giants a 3-2 edge while in the nightcap, he walloped a pinch-hit three-run four bagger to put his team out in front 6-5. Van Mungo gained his 12th triumph in the first game, while Ace Adams, making his 50th appearance, won his ninth in the second.

Jesse Flores pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 7-0 win over Chicago to hand the White Sox their first home Sunday loss this season after 17 consecutive successes. The Sox, however, came back to win the second 5-3.

Dave Ferriss notched his 15th victory, tops in the majors, as Boston's Red Sox and Cleveland split. Ferriss won the opener 7-1, but the Indians, with Pete Cent reg-

STEPHENSON WINS PRESIDENT'S CUP

Shots On Last Six Holes Beat Walken In Golf Club Event

E. M. Stephenson defeated N. I. Walken 2 and 1 in the 18 hole tournament finals at the Salem Golf club Saturday afternoon to win the President's Trophy.

Stephenson shot a 42 and a 40 for his 82 which nosed out Walken who had 83 for the 18 holes.

Walken was two down on the first trip around, but came back to take the next three holes and took a one margin lead. On the next hole the match was even. Stephenson finished the last six holes one over par.

Thirty-two players participated in the event which was played under three-quarter handicap.

In the semi-finals Stephenson won over Gene Sommers 3 and 1, and Walken eliminated Al Moser one up.

Winner of the President's Trophy last year was Joe Kelley. Gene Sommers was runner-up.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—The break-down on racing's first $4,000,000 betting day ($4,035,465 at Belmont park Saturday, shows that $1,208,404 was tossed into the pari-mutuel machines for the last two races.

KEEPS A-GOING
The secret of Connie Mack's surprising stamina at 82 is his love to "keep a-going." The manager of the Philadelphia Athletics sets a pace that would tire many a younger man. "You're only as old as you think," he says. You can bet your last buck he won't retire soon. He's too young to give up waving his famous scorecard from the dugout.

ONE-FOR THE BOOK

Eddie Travis, of the Newport News, Va., Daily Press, nominates for the "reddest face of the year" the bat boy for the Roanoke Red Sox of the Piedmont league. The Red Sox and Norfolk were hooked up in a rather hectic game. Eddie relates, "when Clayton Goad, Roanoke pitcher, struck out. The strikeout pitch hit the plate and the ball bounced toward the Roanoke dugout where the bat boy was an absorbed spectator. Automatically he fielded the ball on a perfect play and threw it to the first baseman who relayed it to first base before the Roanoke runner got there. The umpire called Goad out and the game was finished under protest. Credit the bat boy with an involuntary assist."

ODDS AND ENDS

Subs Fight Japs and Typhoon In Heroic Rescue

These photos show scenes from what Fleet Admiral Nimitz described as "one of the most sensational stories of the war." During a furious China Sea typhoon, a five-day running battle with a Jap convoy and its escorting warships, five U.S. submarines sank at least 10 enemy craft and rescued 159 British and Australian prisoners of war—survivors of the Jap transport Rakuyo Maru, one of the 10 ships sunk. The submarines were the Sealion, Barb, Queenfish, Pampanito and the Growler, the last now being reported lost. Photo above shows oil-soaked British prisoners being picked up by the Sealion after three days in the water. At left, two survivors cling desperately to hatch cover as rescue craft approaches.

Nothing On Shore Safe From U. S. Submarines
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Japanese sailors are not safe from American submarines even on shore.

The Navy related today that the Sub Bowfin was seeking targets in the vicinity of Daito Shima in the Nanpo Shoto islands when it spotted a Japanese cargo ship beside a pier. On the pier was a large bus being loaded with a naval liberty party.

"When the babies from the blast of Bowfin's torpedoes had settled, little remained of the pier, and nothing at all of the cargo ship and the busload of Japs," it added.

MAP PLANS

appliances. At least 500,000 passenger cars, double the number planned originally, are expected. Refrigerators and washing machines also are likely to be in good supply late this year.

Price and rent controls—due to be retained for at least six months, possibly a year on a limited scale.

Manpower—government officials estimate at least 5,000,000 war workers will lose their jobs within six months after V-J day. They make no prediction how long it will be before these workers can be absorbed in civilian production.

Travel—troop demobilization is expected to prevent lifting of restrictions for at least 60 days.

All agencies with a part in reconversion have been told by the White House to say nothing about their plans until President Truman gives the word.

Munitions Output Cut
Already, however, steps are being taken to trim drastically the current $48,000,000,000 annual rate of munitions production. Over the weekend the Navy halted construction of 95 ships that would have cost $1,200,000,000, and the Army indicated its purchasing would be cut more than $25,000,000,000 on a yearly basis.

With even more cutbacks to come, production officials estimated manufacture for military purposes would plummet to a rate of around $12,000,000,000 a year within a few weeks after Japan folds. This expenditure would be mainly for maintenance and repair and for experimental projects.

As for reconversion, the War Production board said it is all set with a "clear, simple and orderly" plan to lead industry from tremendous munitions production to record output of consumer goods.

In striving to achieve this goal set by Mr. Truman, the agency plans to drop many controls at once, retaining only those required to prevent "a chaotic scramble for materials" and to avoid inflationary prices.

Its program also will be keyed to speed up re-employment of released munitions workers.

To help provide jobs quickly, WPB plans to use its priorities assistance authority to rush expansion of manufacturing plant facilities. Any peacetime production project which will serve to reduce unemployment will get a green light immediately.

The agency is not worried about materials. In fact, a WPB official said last night the war's end will mean a flood of steel and other materials for consumer goods.

The only brake on production, he added, will be limited plant facilities and the time required for manufacture to hit its stride.

War Manpower, commission officials have said it's "anybody's guess" how long it will take to get war workers into consumer goods jobs. They expect, however, that fall will be well along before the upward surge of joblessness can be reversed.

played in Russia and other European countries.

The Moscovites are wasting no time in their mighty assault. Their evident purpose is to overrun the Jap-held territory as quickly as possible and render the enemy fighting machine in that part of the world impotent. This is a very important because, as I have pointed out more than once, there always has been the possibility that the Japanese war-lords might elect to continue the war on the continent even if Tokyo surrendered. Any such scheme will be short-lived the way the Russians are tearing into the enemy.

Moscow announces that Russian marines also have invaded Korea and captured the important port of Rashin and Yuki, on the coast of Japan. This operation not only is important in itself, but it would complement the offensive across Mongolia toward the Yellow Sea should the Japanese report of the latter operation prove to be true.

Learn How Nazis Shot 15 American Soldiers
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Fifteen American soldiers, in full uniform, were executed by the Germans in Italy early last year in flagrant violation of the rules of warfare.

Disclosing this over the weekend, the army said the fate of the 15 enlisted men and two officers was discovered shortly after V-E day when their bodies were found in a common grave near Genoa.

The men were captured by the Nazis during a daring night raid aimed at blowing up a strategic railroad tunnel near La Spezia. Planes had been unable to bomb out the line.

Several of the Germans responsible for the atrocity already have been taken into custody and will be placed on trial soon.

The victims all were members of the Office of Strategic Service 2671st Special Reconnaissance battalion based on Corsica.
